

PHOENIX GREYS OPEN BASEBALL SEASON TODAY

The Phoenix Greys, an all-star aggregation of ball players representing this city, will make their debut at Eastlake park this afternoon against the fast Tempe club. The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock unless rain interferes.

E. D. Perry, manager of the Phoenix Greys, has been giving his time and energy to baseball since his arrival in the valley. Early this season he organized a club and succeeded in keeping his team at the top of the list until the Central Arizona league was organized, absorbing the Perry Stars. When the Central Arizona league disbanded Perry started on a still hunt to give Phoenix one good baseball team instead of several mediocre clubs with a sprinkling of stars on each team. His efforts resulted in the organization of the Phoenix Greys, the latest aggregation of ball players ever assembled under the Phoenix banner.

Duke Cross, the leading twirler of the valley, is the star moundman of the Phoenix Greys and J. Perry will occupy the mound at regular intervals. The other members of the Phoenix Greys are Lyall, Wells, O'Brien, Sorrey, Black, Benenato, H. Westfall, F. Westfall, Scotty and Teaney.

The Tempe club under Manager Nichols has won more games than any two teams in the valley. Nich says his team has stood since the start of the season and it will take a club of professionals to break his line-up.

With Tempe and Phoenix playing ball this afternoon, the fans will have little chance to seek amusement in the baseball line. A regular winter schedule is now being arranged by Manager Perry of the Greys and other club managers of the district.

Country Club Golf Course Opens With Nine Holes Today

Unless the late downpour wrecks the plans formulated by the greens committee, the first nine holes of the new golf course will be officially opened at the Phoenix Country club today. The full 18 holes have not been completed, but the committee decided to open with a nine-hole course in order to provide the golf fans with a little recreation.

Golf fastens itself on the sportsman when the first frost nips the crop and does not let go until old Sol's rays make it difficult to cover the course without assistance from the nineteenth hole. The rain will flood the course several inches before the dyed-in-the-wool golf bug abandons the game today. Suitable prizes will be given in the blind par handicap featuring the opening play.

The committee announces that the full 18 holes will be ready for the players in another week.

FOUR SPEED KINGS ALREADY SIGNED FOR FAIR WEEK RACE

With names of four famous speed kings definitely filed for the 100-mile free-for-all, and several other equally renowned speed demons almost signed-up, that race to be staged on Auto day at the State Fair, Saturday, November 13, will surpass the expectations of the most exacting.

In addition to Tommy Milton and Eddie Hearn who have been entered for several days, it is now announced that Jim Crosby, and Mike Moosie have signed up to do battle to first-named record-breakers. Moosie is an old-time favorite on the auto racing track and expects to drive a Stutz in the fair races.

A letter from Jim Crosby to L. H. Gibbs, in charge of the racing program, announces that he will drive an Essex Special, and that he will be over to Phoenix from the coast as soon as he can get his car in first-class order, and ship it to Phoenix. Crosby is in Stockton at present with his car. He will come directly from there to Phoenix.

Crosby has a notable record as a driver, having been entered in all the big racing events on the Pacific coast in the past three years, and having been winner in several. He drove a Duesenberg at Santa Monica in the Vanderbilt cup race in 1916, was entered in the Pacific coast championship event, July 11, 1917, and was winner of the 50-mile event on the Tacoma speedway in 1918, April 13, 1917. Crosby captured first prize in the 100-mile race on the one-mile Stockton dirt track. He took second at Santa Rosa, May 26, 1917. In this event he led the field for 76 miles and lost place by a tire change. Only last week he took third place at Bakersfield with the Essex Special in a race against 340 cubic inch displacement cars.

However just in the offing is fra Vadi, who hopes to enter this race with a Chevrolet. He is now in California tearing down his engines. He will rush the machine together again and if possible make the Phoenix 100-mile race.

There is still the possibility that Ralph DePalma will be in on the competition. Within the next week he is due to return to New York from Europe, and the superintendent of Auto day expects to hear within a few days whether or not he will be able to make the jump from New York to Phoenix in time for the races here.

But the 100-mile event will not furnish all the thrills on the racing program. A great deal of interest is being evinced by Arizona, Texas and New Mexico drivers in the Tri-State classic, for which a number of entries have been filed.

One of the most notable of these is the entry of the famous Duesenberg that Tommy Milton will drive in the 100-mile. Mr. Clifford, manager of the Roamer Sales company, announces that Glen Thomas of Phoenix, will

'SPEEDBALL HAYDEN' MAY FIGHT SALINAS JACK ON NEXT BOUT

Matchmaker McAhren started the fireworks with the announcement of his fair week fight card. The fans have already started arguing on the logical opponent for Salinas Jack Robinson and other members of the all-star fight card.

Nothing definite has been given out as to the date for the fight, but the card will probably feature the Tuesday night program for the valley. With the exception of the main event, all bouts have been practically closed and those not signed have agreed to go on when the card is set.

Mr. McAhren stated last night that nothing but high-class boxing talent would be used during fair week, as he was anxious to give the fans the best that can be secured after the long layoff. Kaysee Smith and Smiling Parker of Glendale will arrive in Phoenix within the next two or three days. Robinson is already en route and Wright and Briggs are due Wednesday. Gardner and Daly are working out every afternoon getting in condition for their final tryouts. Mack Spaw will probably reach Phoenix the latter part of the week, but Mack is always in fighting trim and a few days road work will fit him for his Phoenix fight.

Matchmaker McAhren will place the reserve seat tickets on sale just as soon as the date is set for the fight. In the meanwhile the committee is working for the show and the little incidental of date and pastebards will not keep down the argument. It begins to look like Speedball Hayden in the main go with Robinson, but Mac would not O. K. the story last night.

DEER SEASON CLOSES
Tonight; Did You Get Your Season Supply?

C. E. Young is a disappointed hunter, and he landed his buck at that. Young and a party of friends started out early yesterday morning prepared for a four or five-day camping and hunting trip in the mountains for the purpose of landing a deer. The party motored along the highway until they reached the Cave Creek district when the keen eye of Mr. Young spotted the prey galloping across the range. He leveled his rifle and brought the animal down on the first shot and the other members of the party made quick work of reaching the victim and loading him in the car.

Within three hours after they left Phoenix Mr. Young and party were back in the city with a fine large buck and less than 64 miles registered on the speedometer. Young says they could have made better time than that if they were out to break any record. Anyway his hunting and camping party was ruined for the season and the old rifle is back on the shelf for another year while the boys are telling hunting stories around the steam-heated radiator in the hotel.

The deer season closes at midnight tonight; if you have not landed your pro rata of deer there is yet time to bring home the bacon. Follow Mr. Young's trail to the Cave Creek district and you will have plenty of time before the season closes; but the buck brought down by Young may be the lone survivor of the herd.

The duck season has not closed and the hunters who have been following the migrations of the birds in this section for years state that the rainy weather makes duck hunting a "cinch." They ought to know after 20 years pursuit of the elusive duck. Several parties left for the favored spots last night and more leave this morning. Verily this is the hunter's paradise.

CHICAGO LOSES TO OHIO STATE

STAGG FIELD, CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—A plunge across Chicago's goal from the one-yard line by Charles Taylor, Ohio's 165 pound fullback, in the last few minutes of play, gave Ohio State a sensational 7 to 6 victory over Chicago before 27,000 persons here today, after Ohio entered the fourth period behind by six to nothing. The victory of the undefeated Ohio eleven eliminated Chicago from the 1920 championship.

The play that started the defeat of Chicago was made by Myers, the Buckeye left end, who grabbed a poor punt on Chicago's 40-yard line and raced to the 30-yard line before being thrown out of bounds. "Hoge" Workman, the Buckeye quarterback, thrilled the crowd with a 25-yard forward pass to his brother, who had relieved Slicker at right end. N. Workman caught the pass, after missing a previous attempt and brought the ball to Chicago's 10-yard line. Taylor ripped off four yards through the line and, on the next two plays, went over for a touchdown. "Hoge" Workman kicked goal.

The spectacular ending came with the eight minutes remaining to play and gave the huge crowd a chance to give vent to its bottled up enthusiasm which had been held in check by the dogged fight. After the touchdown had been scored "Hoge" Workman tried for a field goal from the 13-yard line, but the Maroons raced toward the ball with their hands above their heads and blocked the attempt.

CRIMSON DOWNS VIRGINIA 24-0

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 30.—Harvard rolled up three touchdowns and a field goal against the University of Virginia today, winning, 24 to 0. Although the visitors showed proficiency in the overhead game, their offense vanished at Harvard's 25-yard line. The Crimson played the game almost entirely with substitutes, who found some difficulty early in the game in stopping the forward passes and runs of the visitors.

Harvard scored in the first 10 minutes in a march from mid-field. Virginia flashed an offense a few minutes later that carried the ball to Harvard's 33-yard line, where a forward pass was caught. Through the second period and all of the third the defense of both teams was too strong for scoring.

In the final period Right Guard Brown broke through and, blocking a punt, picked up the ball and ran 25 yards for a touchdown. A few minutes later Fullback Hamilton caught a forward pass and dashed to Virginia's seven-yard line and after two plunges he picked another forward pass standing on the goal line and made the third touchdown.

HARDING OR COX---

The election of a president for the next four years has been occupying the attention of all good loyal Americans for the past several weeks, but after Tuesday it will have been settled whether Mr. Cox or Mr. Harding shall be the next president of the United States.

The election of either of these men for president will have a distinct tendency to quiet the apprehensive fears of our citizens and to stabilize conditions.

The ordinary citizen, while taking a proper interest in the election, realizes that his individual success must depend upon his own efforts. For instance, after election the need for houses of all sorts will be just as great as it has been for some time, despite the efforts to catch up with the building program. Every citizen realizes if he would have a house in which to live or do business he must build it himself.

We have anticipated four years of great prosperity for our country and are well provided in all of our yards with building materials to provide for a large building program. These materials are all of high quality and adapted to the climatic needs of Arizona. You will find that such lumber is much cheaper in the long run than that of poorer quality some times offered at a less price.

Let us estimate all of your building material bills for the next four years.
